

FUNERAL OF A. F. WARREN BE HELD TODAY

FOUNDER AND FOR MANY YEARS
PRESIDENT OF WARREN FISH
COMPANY WAS SUBSTANTIAL CIT-IZEN AND PIONEER IN HIS LINE.

Funeral services for Andrew Fuller Warren, for many years president of the Warren Fish Company, will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the family residence, 504 North Baylen street. Acting as pall bearers will be William F. Lee, E. J. Braswell, William McLean, J. C. Clarke, Charles Mertins and George J. Eggart, all of whom were associated with the company of which Mr. Warren had been the official head for so many years.

Mr. Warren had been in failing health for some time, and for the past eight weeks his illness had given much cause for alarm, so his death, which occurred at 6:20 o'clock on Wednesday morning, at the family residence, was not unexpected.

Mr. Warren is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. H. Pierpont, Mrs. Thomas W. Brent, of Pensacola, and Mrs. Fern Wood Mitchell, of Gadsden, Ala., and the following grand-children: Marjorie, Florence and Warren Pierpont, and Fern Wood Mitchell, Jr.

For many years Mr. Warren had been one of West Florida's most substantial citizens. A man of firm religious conviction, of a nature quiet, reserved and conservative, only those who knew him best were aware of the wide charity which he distributed, and of the many kindly deeds which were the outgrowth of a heart whose tenderness found its deepest expression in his own home.

During his many months of illness, the devoted service and attention of the office force with whom he had been so long associated, attested to the love that was given him by those closest to him.

Mr. Warren was born at Chicopee, Mass., December 12th, 1842. He was a graduate of Brown University, class 1862, and while but a youth, served with the Tenth Rhode Island volunteers. In 1873 he married Fannie C. Stearns, of Bath, Maine, and brought his bride here to make her home.

The Warren Fish Company, of which Mr. Warren was president, was the outgrowth of an ice business established here by Mr. Warren in 1871. At that time, prior to the manufacture of artificial ice, much of the ice used in the south was shipped from the Kennebec river. The business of which he was the pioneer had such substantial growth as to rank it with any such business in the south, and is among the largest in West Florida.
